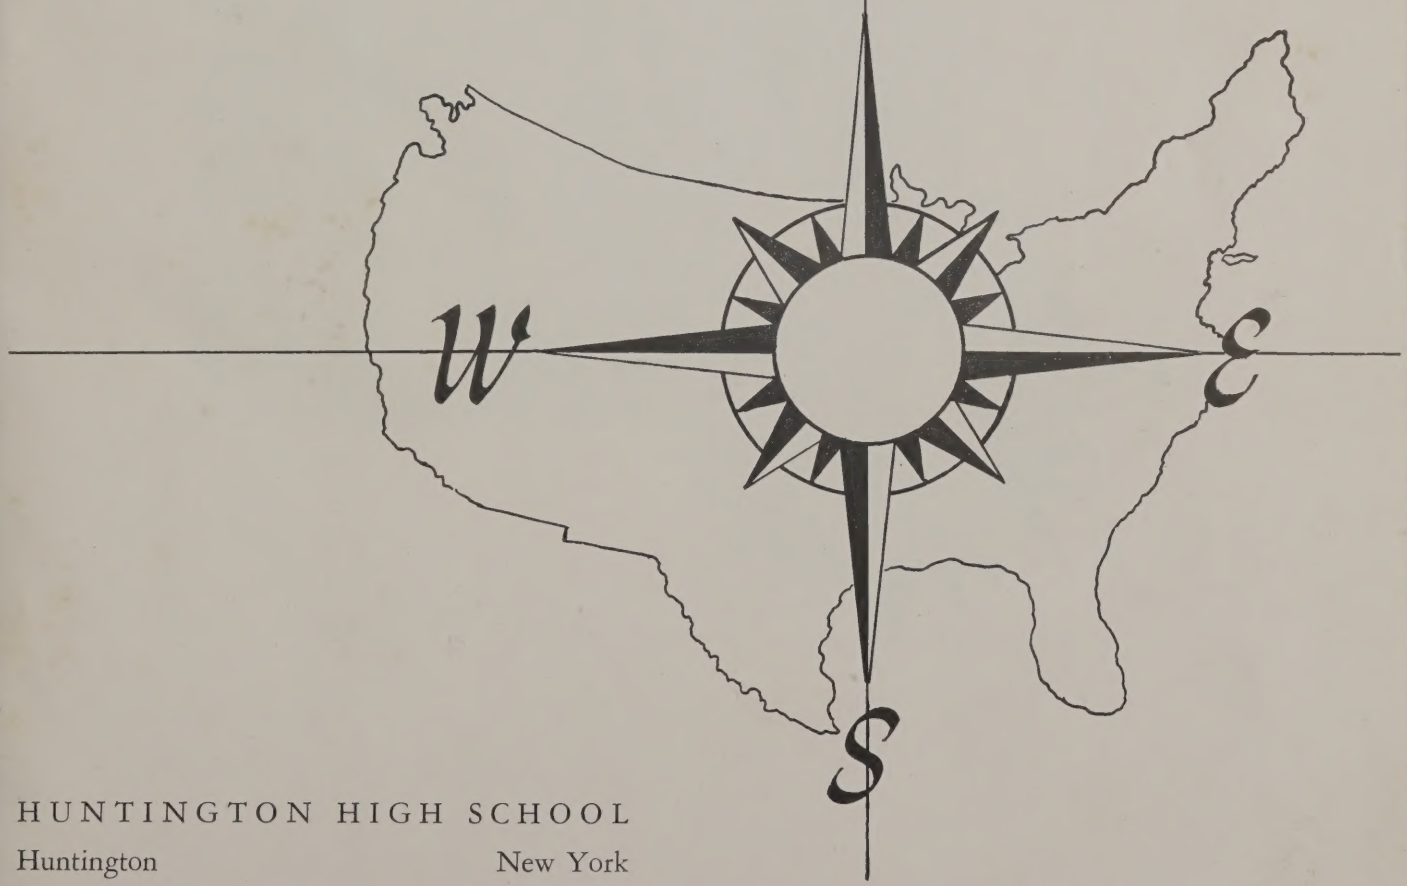
THE HUNTINGTONIAN

PRESENTED BY THE

Forty-Niners



HUNTINGTON HIGH SCHOOL
Huntington New York

Dr. Lyle L. Morris, Superintendent

Mr. Robert L. Simpson, Principal

FOREWORD

WHEN gold was discovered in California in 1849, the great westward movement came to a climax. Thousands of pioneers set out for the distant coast, knowing full well the hardships which they would encounter. As we pioneers of 1949 set out on life's journey, we, too, are filled with the brave, eager spirit of frontiersmen. Throughout our progress, may this book be a constant reminder of the place where we built the firm foundations on which our minds, bodies and spirits will grow.

DEDICATION

Good luck, Tony

WE dedicate the 1949 Huntingtonian to Mr. Baty. His buoyant personality, ready wit, and down-to-earth philosophy prove a constant source of inspiration to students. We gratefully thank him for understanding our problems and teaching us above and beyond that which can be learned from textbooks.

End of the Trail

IT was 1946 when we left our old familiar haunts and hitched on to the wagon-train with our prairie schooner shining and newly-built. The going was a little rough that year on the trail, but with Bill Monroe on the driver's seat and Elizabeth Darling, Allen Brush, Mini Provenzano, and Paul Bennett taking a hand now and then, we managed to keep up with the other wagons. The old-timers tried all their tricks on us at first, but we grew wiser, and along about April, we'd sit around the campfire telling yarns with the best of them.

We were going stronger than ever the next year. Ethel Smith gave Billy Monroe a hand with the reins, while Diana Katnack kept the records, and Ralph Williams watched the supplies to make sure we didn't run too low. It seems as if we were kept mighty busy that year. We entertained the rest of the crowd, too. Recollect the talent show and the speaking contest? Around June, when some of our party decided to branch off in another direction, we gave them a bang-up send-off—tried a newfangled Mardi Gras idea that came up from the South.

Then, used to the road, we advanced to the head of the wagon train. There were other things to do in this last lap—plays, concerts, football, basketball, baseball. The days just weren't long enough. Some of our group took a railroad train, that speedy new invention, to Washington, D. C. —saw all the country's monuments down there. But they came back; they couldn't stay away from their old partners.

And now we've reached the end of the trail. We're leaving the rest of the wagons, letting them go on and fare for themselves. We'll find our gold, now. Can't beat us Forty-niners!

Senior Class Will

WE, the Forty-Niners, in the year of our Lord, 1949, being of sound bodies and equally sound minds (despite outward appearances), do hereby bequeath the following to H. H. S.:

To Mr. Doty we leave the musical chairs of 109.

Paul Bennett leaves his philosophies to any lunch-hour sympathizer.

Dan Swezey wills his wind to Chick Trayford.

Mr. Granger is left alive, in spite of his atomic-dangerous chemistry classes.
Charley Johnson leaves his crew cut to Bob.

Alfonse leaves sweet memories of that intercepted pass.

Don Kolowsky wills his place in the fifth period Kubisa story hour circle to any other seeker of knowledge.

Jim Bowden leaves his voice to Dave Howell.

The football champs leave next year's team to trounce Bay Shore again.

Mary O'Prey leaves Eileen Frahm to become Huntington's next Rembrandt.

Ralph Williams leaves his noon time taxi service to Bob Thomas.

Marion Hansen leaves her athletic prowess to Ocky Ericson.

We leave Miss Van Wart with only one hope—Nick Markoff.

Ann Ragle leaves her giggling to her sister Elizabeth.

The Seniors leave with hopes that come day the water fountains will gush forth like "Old Facefulls."

Marilyn and Henry leave together.

Betty Fill leaves her lusty voice to Miss Bannister's "far corner."

Bob Brush leaves his winning manner to Bob Conklin.

Bill Monroe leaves his capacity for being in everything at once to Bill Class.

Claire Rosenkoff leaves her report card to anyone who can fill it as admirably.

Sealed and signed on this twenty-fourth day of June.

Bob Cozzette, Senior Class President.

Jolly Juniors

WHAT! Juniors already? It seems like only yesterday that we arrived here from Toaz, not knowing what to expect in our next three year at Huntington High, and wondering why on earth the classrooms didn't have three-foot numbers on them so that we could at least find the rooms we were looking for.

We elected ourselves a fine group of officers right away—James Mastroianni, President; George Wild, Vice President; Louise Ortolani, Secretary; and G. O. Representative, Elizabeth Ragle. With representative to G. A. C. Astrid Ericson and B. A. C. Representative Albert Pilnacek concluding the list, we certainly got off to a swell start.

Of course, many of us joined the school extra-curricular activities. We were found on the staff of High Lights and on the Masque committees. We swelled the ranks of Arista, Math Club and Student Leaders. Such boys as Charlie Boccia, Bill Cody and Bob Johnson became active in football, basketball, softball and other competitive sports.

This year, as juniors, we again chose a slate of officers who would bring us out on top. George Wild is our President, Pat Gillman our Vice President, Dorothy Leonard, Secretary, and David Howell, Treasurer. G. O. Representative, Jacqueline Drohan, B. A. C. Representative, Frank Roschnotti, and G. A. C. Representative Astrid Erickson conclude the list. We again got busy—this time collecting Junior Dues, so that the prom in June would be the best in Huntington High's history and would be remembered forever by us and our upper-classmen. Our members worked hard competing for Junior Prize Speaking, and those who won were a credit to our class.

Most of us tried hard to get on the Honor Roll with every report card. Some of us even had a chance to demonstrate what we knew at forums in New York City. How proud we were when one of our members, Nan Walsh, became one of the finalists in the forum at Columbia University!

Yes, it has been a short but exciting time since we arrived as sophomores in Huntington High School, and our "jolly junior" class, under Miss Buchanan's guidance, has certainly accomplished a lot.

Worldly Sophomores

DURING our first few days in Huntington High we were subjected to the usual routine of searching in vain for the elevator and the fourth floor. Having just come from Toaz, where we were the "big wheels," we were properly deflated. However, we still had among us the outstanding students who had won honor for us before and who would be heard from again. We are thinking of the award winners in that last 9 A assembly —Mary Burns, John Honohan, Jill Thomson, Antoinette Urraro, Donald Moore, Annalies Hartnagel and David Bodner.

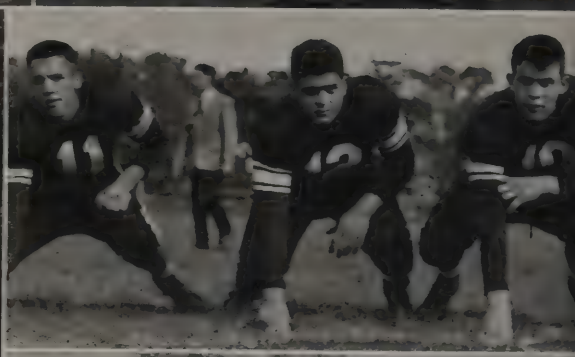
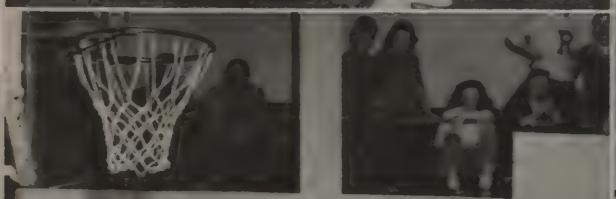
It didn't take us long to get into the swing of things at Huntington High with our newly elected officers. Bill Class became top man, with Kirby Bennet as vice-president. Jill Thomson was elected as secretary-treasurer, while Deane Brink became the Representative to the Executive Council. Athletically-inclined Antoinette Urraro and Alfred Gumbs were elected representatives to the G. A. C. and B. A. C., respectively.

Extra-class activities have claimed the interests of many of us. Remember how proud we were to have Pat McCutcheon and Jane Corey chosen for leading roles in "Junior Miss"? Arista and Student Leaders were quick to welcome several of our outstanding girls. Nor were our boys to be neglected when we had Bill Class, "Rudy" Gumbs and other athletes signing up for football, basketball, and baseball.

With Miss Goodrich as sponsor, we carried out our chief project of the year—selecting rings.

Now, here it is June and we are dreamily picturing ourselves as next September's Jolly Juniors, pulling the same tricks and playing the same pranks on the incoming sophomores. We know they'll fall just as hard as we did, and we know, too, that like us, they'll soon become a real part of Huntington High's friendly group.





SPORTS

Lots of luck.
Ralph Williams

Varsity Basketball

THIS year Coach Kubisa's Blue Devils started out in much the same way as last year's squad.

Beginning with the 34-29 defeat of Babylon, the Blues ran up a 7 game winning streak beating Babylon, Amityville, Bay Shore, Northport, Port Jefferson, Patchogue, and Sayville.

Earlier in the season, Huntington scored victories over Smithtown, South Huntington, Amityville, Port Jefferson and Patchogue.

Losses came at the hands of South Huntington, Babylon, Northport, Lindenhurst, and Bay Shore.

Charlie Johnson injured his ankle and was in only a few scattered lineups in the early part of the season. After his return, he saw regular action and tallied 20 and 23 points to spark wins over Amityville and Bay Shore. Johnny Leith also hurt his ankle but was out for only one game. Dick Gardner, one of last year's chief contributors to the championship, broke an arm before school opened in September and was unable to see action at all.

As far as score books show, Huntington and Babylon were tied for first place with 8 wins and 2 losses each. Bay Shore was second with 7 wins and 3 losses.

However, Babylon had to forfeit 8 games which gave Bay Shore the championship with 8 wins and 2 defeats, while HHS was second with a record of 6 wins and 4 losses after forfeiting four games, two of them league tilts, one each to Amityville and Port Jefferson.

THIS year's varsity eleven emerged as one of the most brilliant and colorful teams to come out of H. H. S.

Huntington opened the schedule with a 20-6 win over Port Jefferson. Journeying to Babylon on the following Saturday, the Blue Devils showed their power as they downed the Panthers 26-6. The Huntington powerhouse kept rolling as Bill Hartman passed the Blue Devils to a 19-0 win over Amityville. Then on a dreary, rainy afternoon, with Paul Bennett scoring two touchdowns, the Blue Devils racked up another win by checking Lindenhurst 16-0. Then came the big test. Bay Shore, also undefeated and with an eye on the section championship, invaded Hecksher Field to try toppling the Blues from the ranks of the unbeaten. However, the Maroons were no match for the onrushing Blue Devils, who trampled Bay Shore 26-7. All Varsity players saw action as a weak Sayville team was snowed under 31-0. The season ended in a night game in which the Blues tripped a strong Patchogue eleven 14-6.

Under the bright title of section champs, the Devilmen met Riverhead, to compete for the county crown. The small, light Riverhead squad put up a tough fight, but H. H. S.'s tougher line and good pass defense were too much for the Blue Waves, although they did score two touchdowns, the most tallied against Huntington this season. The Blue Devils went home County Champs by a 27-14 count.

A host of Blue Devils made the all-Suffolk squads, 6 on the first team. Paul Bennett, John Howell, Bill Hartman, Charlie Johnson, Al Avino, and Ted La May captured first string honors while Scott Drummond and Richie Alberts made the second team.

In addition to receiving the section and county trophies the 1948 Blue Devils were also awarded the Rutgers trophy as the outstanding team in Suffolk County.

Varsity Baseball

WHEN the first breath of warm air comes during early April, all eyes turn toward Hecksher's Field, where the sparkling Blue Devil baseball squad will be practicing and playing. Only a few of last year's outstanding players are slated to return, but Coach Class has many new turnouts who may prove to be just what the team needs for a victorious season.

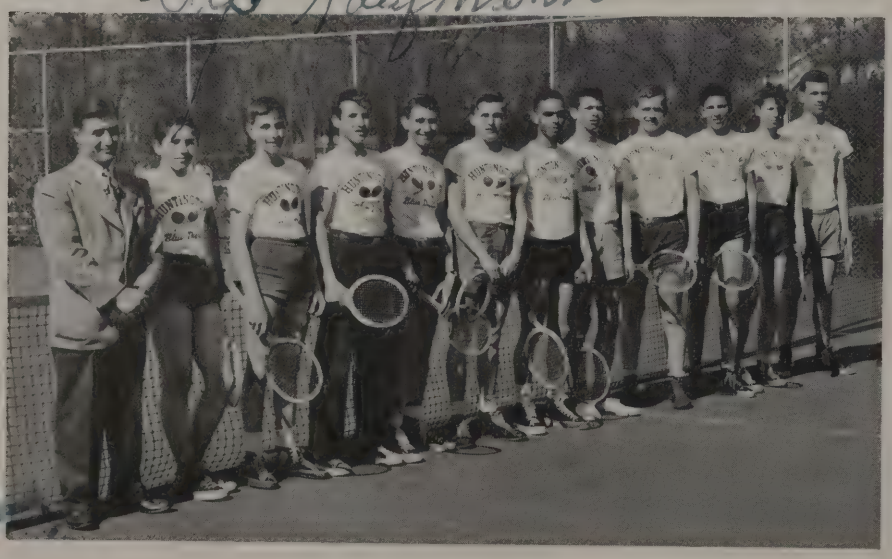
Last year the Blue Devils won 8 and lost 4 but ended tied for second place with Amityville, Port Jeff and Sayville, while Babylon captured the crown. This year Coach Class hopes to have a powerful, surging team that will bring the championship to Huntington.

Varsity Tennis

WITH the return of Ralph Williams, Billy Monroe, and Roy Neuberger, three of last year's mainstays, plus a group of newcomers, the netmen, coached by Mr. Granger, are looking forward to a victorious season.

Last season the team won two meets but lost four. One match ended in a tie when rain cancelled the remainder of the match.

One of the highlights of last season was the playing of Ralph Williams, left-handed singles star, who succeeded in reaching the finals in the Nassau-Suffolk championships held at Rockville Center.



TENNIS

J. V. Football

THE Jayvees provided many thrills and lots of excitement. What they may not have done in the way of scoring, they made up in sportsmanship and enthusiasm.

The Jayvees lost their first three games to Port Jeff, Babylon, and Amityville, respectively, by scores of 8-6, 7-0, 6-0. They then tied Lindenhurst 0-0, but it could have been called a moral victory because after defeat by Bay Shore 25-0, the future stars chalked up their first victory, a 6-0 win over Sayville. In the final game with Patchogue they ended up on the short end of a 7-0 count.

Varsity Track

WITH the bang of the starting gun the fleet-footed track stars of H. H. S. roar off to another victory.

Stressing the abilities of the individual, the cinder sport offers 100, 200, and 440 yard dashes, the half mile and mile classics, and broad jumping, pole vaulting, high jumping, shot putting and discus throwing.

With the return of many of last year's stars including Don Levin, Dan Swezey, Allen Brush, Paul Johnson, Bob Bloxom, Louis Stubbolo, Bob Johnson, John Vogler, Charlie Gumbs, and Hugo Pearson plus a variety of good prospects, the 1949 Blue Devil Track Squad looks forward to a promising year.

Sharpshooters

"REBOUND off the gold!"—"a bullseye!" These shouts are typical of those heard on Hecksher field in the spring and fall when all of Huntington High School's "William Tells" gather for archery practice.

You may not know it, but each year these girls attend archery tournaments at Belmont Lake State Park and really "bring home the bacon" in the form of awards.

The three top scorers last fall were Margaret Hyne, Sheila Glickman and Helen Klerk.

Hockey Highlights

AS soon as the leaves start turning scarlet and gold, crowds of energetic girls pick up hockey sticks and shin-guards and race down to hockey practice. Sticks click and feet race as the teams chase that elusive little white ball over the field. Gay shouts arise as a nimble H. H. S. forward flicks it into her opponent's goal. Huntington's two hockey teams with hotshots Pavitt, Hansen and Erickson played South Huntington, Smithtown and Oyster Bay during their extramural season.

Houston, E. Frahm, N. Howard, M. Darling, P. Coren, J. Durand, B. Mercier, M. Hyne, A. Urraro.

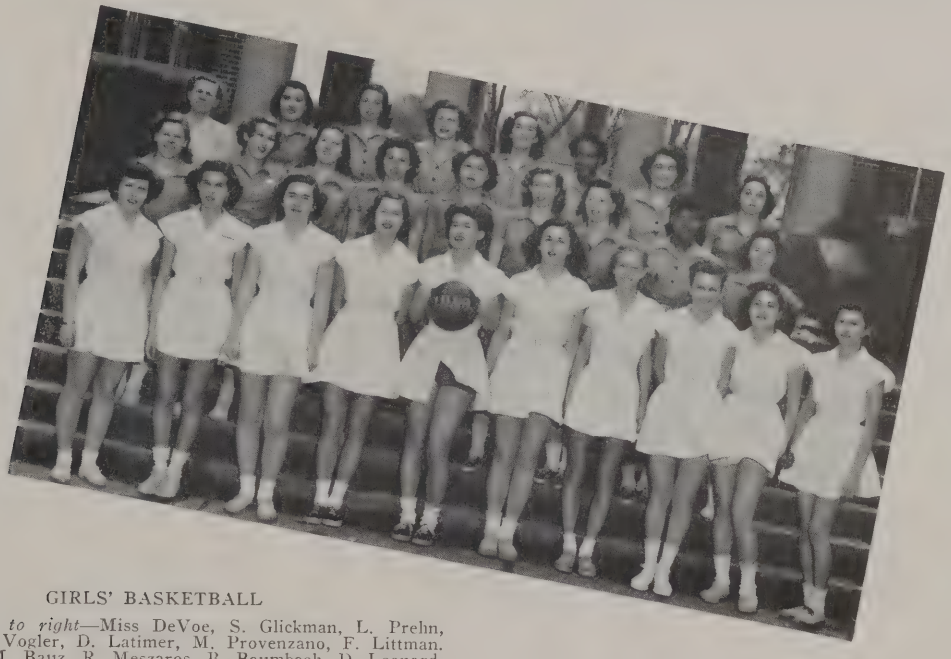
"Time In With the Whistle"

IT looks as though Hansen's Hotshots are winning in intramural basketball competition, but Perils of Percy, Blue Devils and Brayton's BeBops were stiff contenders. Over 100 girls enjoy these intramurals each year.

As for the Honor Teams, about 30 girls are chosen to alternate on the two squads. They have already beaten Oyster Bay 33-29 and are scheduled to play Northport, Port Jeff, Smithtown and Sayville.

Batter Up!

WHEN warm weather comes, girls sign up for softball on the grassy Village Green and Hecksher Park. Intramural teams romp on the turf, as laughing girls strike out and wham home runs all in a day's practice. We have noticed that all the nearby houses have screens over their windows, though—can't imagine why. Once in awhile one sees disgusted girl pull the ball out of a nearby hedge, or dodge an oncoming car to retrieve a wild throw. It's quite a sport!



GIRLS' BASKETBALL

let's try to pass Vicky in English next year.
Carol.

G. A. C.

THE Girls' Athletic Council is comprised of the managers of all sports—major and minor—as well as class and cheerleader representatives. They elect all 1st and 2nd assistants, sponsor a dance each year, sell candy at games, and cooperate with the B. A. C. on the Student-Faculty basketball game in February. They also discuss all problems that come up in the various sports. This group is one of the most necessary to the successful running of girls' sports.

Girls Volleyball

ALTHOUGH not as popular as basketball, hockey, or softball, many girls turn out each winter season for volleyball. A few girls make the honor team which plays other schools—but whether you make that team or not—intramurals are fun, this year the winner being Team I, captained by Astrid Erikson.

Leaders' Corps

THE Girls' Leaders' Corps is a group made up of girls who are interested in physical education more than in just their regular gym work. They help administer tests, assist in teaching gym classes, and referee games. Also, each year, they sponsor one social event, usually a dance. Among their plans are selling ice cream at basketball games and giving a square dance some time in March.

Top row, left to right—P. Gillman, R. Mezaros, M. Vander, M. Ewert, B. Baumbach, D. Eugene, M. Hyne, E. Darling, J. Gumm. Middle row—E. Rasley, P. Pavitt, D. Lammer, A. Michels, L. Ortolani, M. Provenzano, S. M. Lee, J. Denham, E. Smith. Bottom row—B. Van Sise, A. Erickson, J. Kamvissis, B. Kincaid, H. Karg.

B. A. C.

UNDER the guidance of Coaches Class and Kubisa, the Boy's Athletic Council performs many necessary functions.

The council supervises all boys' athletic activities and issues all athletic awards, including varsity letters, minor and major H's, and numerals. It approves budgets and managers, and is instrumental in obtaining equipment for all school sports.

Intramural Basketball

IN our extensive intramural program there are six teams, two from each class, divided into Blue and White squads. Games are held every Friday after school.

This year the Blues had the best record for their 3 teams with 14 won and 10 lost. However, the Senior Whites were the top team with 7 wins and 1 defeat.

The Senior Blues and Junior Blues tied for second place with 5 wins and 3 losses. The Sophomore Blues won 4 and lost 4. The Sophomore Whites had 2 wins against 6 losses and the Junior Whites won 1 and lost 7.

Top row, left to right—F. Walker, R. Neuberger, J. Gray, R. Spide, G. Anderson. Bottom row—M. Adelman, N. Zelows, R. De Rose.

J. V. Basketball

COMING up with one of their most successful seasons, the JayVees won twelve games while losing only four.

Coach Donofrio's boys lost only to South Huntington, Babylon, Patchogue and Bay Shore, while they beat Smithtown, South Huntington, Northport (twice), Lindenhurst, Port Jefferson (twice), Babylon, Amityville, Bay Shore, Sayville, and Patchogue.

John Heskin was the season's top scorer, tallying 184 points while Bill Class was right behind with 183 points.

VARSITY CHEERLEADERS

J. V. CHEERLEADERS

Cheerleaders

WITH Betty Baumbach and Astrid Erickson as captains of Varsity and Jayvee squads, respectively, our vivacious cheerleaders keep us on our toes cheering the team all year round. Their constant pep and eagerness make us conscious of the fact that teams and school need all the spirit we can put behind them. We've heard many a remark from visiting team fellows on their good looks, too! Keep it up, girls—we're mighty proud of you!

ACTIVITIES

EXECUTIVE COUNCIL

G. O. OFFICERS

Executive Council

SCHOOL activities spurted along with each having a capable representative in the Executive Council. Executive Council, Huntington High's governing body, spent every Wednesday afternoon determining those actions that would do most for the benefit of our school and our students.

This year they helped sponsor our Italian exchange student, and conducted the Curtis campaign once again. These were in addition to their many other customary tasks, which include everything from sponsoring clubs and G. O. dances to passing legislation for the general improvement of the school's appearance.

Performing these numerous services provided many busy moments for its officers Bill Monroe, Stanley Hamilton, Ted LaMay and Diana Katnack, and also for its twenty-five efficient members.

Back row, left to right—M. Bloch, A. Ragle, L. Woodlief, V. Walter, B. Bloxsom, G. Van Ausdall, A. Goldsamt, G. Schulz, M. Wein, S. M. Lee, M. O'Prey, B. Monroe, E. Petrone, V. Viste, E. HUNTINGTONIAN BUSINESS STAFF

Huntingtonian

WITH the gold-diggers skit in assembly, the Forty-Niners launched the Huntingtonian early in October. As soon as plenty of loyal subscribers had contributed to the "Gold Rush," the yearbook caravan got under way.

The three staffs—literary, art and business—under the guidance of Miss Cashman, Mr. Link and Miss Andrews, have endeavored to record for you their siftings of another eventful year at H. H. S.

Busy Tuesday afternoons have found Audrey Ackerman capably steering her co-workers toward completion of write-ups. In studio 304 Mary O'Prey and her fellow artists have worked laboriously on an art motif that would evoke for you the spirit of our pioneer forefathers. The tasks of getting subscriptions, enlisting advertisers, and typing were handled by Lorraine Braker and her hard-working assistants.

All three staffs hope that you will enjoy this year's Huntingtonian.

In the past Hunti... h... opened its schools for inspection by the public with little results. Therefore, since few derived any benefits in this way, Huntington High has decided to bring examples of its education to the attention of the citizens through the newspapers.

Wednesday, November 10, was officially set aside for the observance of education in H.H.S. with a special assembly including a forum by the students concerning the good and bad features of our educational system. On Friday an assembly on the United Nations was presented which was certainly an appropriate topic at that time.

...Earns Typewriter Prize

Marie Bauz is the proud winner of a typewriter which was donated to the Huntington High School by a small firm in Huntington Station.

A contest was conducted here in school which consisted of typing a composition showing the advantages of owning a typewriter. This theme was judged for content as well as typing skill. The contestants also had to take an hour-long examination on a typewriter proving that they knew some of the fundamentals of typing. Any student was free to compete.

...ork Of Art Students On Display In Room 304

In 304, the bulletin boards are now decorated with more recent work by the art students than was previously exhibited. Mr. R. Link and Mr. Gordon Alton, student art teacher, selected and arranged the material for this display of pencil drawings, watercolor and charcoal sketches, pen and ink work, and tempera paintings. The pictures, all created by present H.H.S. students, are of high merit and well worth seeing.

New Long Island University Pamphlets Acqaints Prospective Students With Progressive Program

Four pamphlets, designed to acquaint prospective students and interested parents with the progressive educational aims of Long Island University, are now available, Dr. Tristram W. Metcalfe, president of the University, announced today.

Asserting that the pamphlets are one phase of the institution's overall program of expansion and development, Dr. Metcalfe stated that they give an insight into the philosophy "that has guided the University through almost twenty-five years of growth and expanding influence."

He added that the proposed Long Island University unit at Oyster Bay will enlarge the institution's facilities, permitting an increased enrollment in the spring semester.

The pamphlets contain a comprehensive description of the University's policies, programs and aims, and give special attention to student guidance for veterans, and the ersonal relationship between students and faculty.

Entitled respectively: "Educational Aims of Long Island University," "A Liberal, Progressive University," "Student Guidance at Long Island University", and "A Progressive University in a Changing World", the pamphlets may be obtained by writing to the Secretary to the Dean, Long Island University, 390 Pearl Street, Brooklyn 1, New York.

New York City Municipal Colleges Offer Tuition-Free Classes For Future Teachers

If you are interested in becoming teachers in the elementary schools or the high schools, you may enroll at Queens College for the teacher education program. Queens College is a public college that offers a bachelor's degree and a master's degree without tuition for qualified students of New York State. This year New York City municipal colleges are permitted to enroll students in Nassau and Suffolk Counties for the free tuition program. Senior high school students who are interested in applying for admission for the Spring semester of 1949 must make application by November 15th. More information is available in Mr. Cushman's office. Direct inquiries may also be made by communicating with Dr. Harry N. Rivlin, Chairman of the Department of Education and Director of Graduate Studies, Queens College, Flushing, New York.

Pep Club Promotes School Spirit Again

Have you been wondering just what the Pep Club is? Well, its main purpose is to promote school spirit in H. H. S. and so far it's been doing a very good job. They undertake anything to bring about school spirit such as planning assembly skits, posters, and printing cheers for school games.

The Club meets regularly on Wednesday in 106 under the supervision of Mr. Marlowe. They have refreshments at every meeting and will have some sort of a party at the end of the year.

Their officers are: Ann Ragle, President; Doris Elsner, Vice President; Grace Downs, Secretary; Ida Peckham, Treasurer; Pat Mackin, Representative to G. O.

Scholarships Open To HHS Senior Girls At Western College

Five Trustee Scholarships of $2000 each will be available to young women entering Western College for Women at Oxford, Ohio, as freshmen in September 1949.

Senior girls at Huntington High School have an opportunity to try for these scholarships which will be awarded on the basis of a competitive examination, past scholastic achievement, character, health and general intellectual and social interests. For further information and application blanks, write today to the Director of Admissions, Western College for Women, Oxford, Ohio.

Founded in 1853, Western College for Women is one of the oldest liberal arts colleges for women in the country. Western is located in southwestern Ohio and has a 200-acre campus of meadow, hills and woodland. Western College for Women offers all of the traditional liberal arts courses plus work in such fields as radio, theatre, photography, business and nursery school. Graduates hold positions of responsibility and leadership in their chosen careers.

Nine o'Clock Club

FROM the very first Nine O'Clock Club assembly in which Joan Jeffrey and Ted LaMay set "our football heroes" off to a good start, this group has endeavored to enliven our Friday mornings with all the talent they could muster from "these here parts."

Peppy Percy Pavitt, Betty Fillekes in her buttons and bows, and imitator George Lyes with his be-bop boys all came to the fore. Lively Joan Winding told us stories and Jody Schulz introduced us to some talented sophomores. We are grateful to these and to many others who have participated in those pleasantly anticipated programs. Mr. Granger is the club's faculty adviser.

Hi-Y

A NEW club has taken shape in the past few months—the Hi-Y, a service organization. Mr. Cushman, the club's sponsor, and Coach Class were responsible for forming it. Headed by Stanley Hamilton, President; Bill Class, Vice-President; Mickey Norton, Secretary, and Gordon Taylor, Treasurer, the club has accomplished much.

Hi-Y has sponsored the March of Dimes, contributed a basket of food to a needy family and cooperated with Arista in supplying ushers for the Choric Drama.

Since the purpose of Hi-Y is to create, maintain, and establish high standards of Christian character, there are no discriminations regarding membership. The organization at present has twenty-six members.

MATH CLUB

Quick Computers

WANT to know how to solve a problem? Run quickly to the club that meets in 204 every Tuesday and they will do their best to please you. Started by Miss Van Wart, the Math Club carries on its study of complicated problems and puzzles.

Alan Goldsamt is president; Nick Markoff, vice-president; Despina Eugene, secretary-treasurer, and Bob Byers, representative to Executive Council.

Highlighting its social activities was a Christmas party. The main event of this year was participating in the annual Pi Mu Epsilon Interscholastic Mathematics contest at N. Y. U.

Capable Crew

ONE of the main service organizations of the school is the Projection Service Squad. Composed of seventeen licensed members, the squad endeavors to serve the school by operating the projectors, slide projector, and turntable whenever the occasion arises.

All candidates for the squad are required to pass an equipment test before being allowed to act in the full capacity of a Projection Squad member. After having his membership authorized by the president, Hendrik Vander Marel, the student is capable of operating the equipment for classes, clubs, or other school affairs.

Physics Service Squad

THE Physics Service Squad, under the direction of Mr. Baty, gives the students the opportunity to work with laboratory equipment and give individual or group demonstrations. Partial class responsibility is put upon this group when they are working as lab assistants. Through handling lab equipment these amateur scientists learn the difference between actual and theoretical experimentation.

The Slide Rule Club

EVERY Thursday afternoon the Slide Rule Club meets in Room 204. The object of the Club is to teach the operation of the slide rule to all those who are interested. Nicholas Markoff is president and Mr. McCarthy, sponsor. The members have learned how to save many minutes working math problems through use of the slide rule. Now that they have learned all the fundamentals, they are ready to tackle trigonometry.

PHYSICS SERVICE SQUAD

Le Cercle Francais

BONJOUR Monsieur — Parlez-vous francais? Who are these foreign looking creatures? Why, Miss Goodrich's French Club, of course.

French Club is strictly for more advanced persons —that is second and third year French students. In 1949 the French Club sent several packages, through "Care," to needy French families.

After the business meeting the club studies French customs and language with amusing games and puzzles. This year refreshments ended the meetings. Officers are: President, Audrey Ackerman; Secretary, Ingrid Clark; Treasurer, Mary Beth Vance; Entertainment Chairman, Annalies Hartnagle.

Library Club

HERE we have those tried and true girls of the Library Club. As Miss Kingston's right-hand women, they tend the desk and keep the books in order. They are Johnny-on-the-spot with information about the library.

Every November they hold a successful Book Fair with books from different publishers for teachers and pupils to see. Their cookies at this tea were beyond description. At their assembly program the teachers who couldn't tell the truth had to act out consequences for the enjoyment of student body.

During Regents week the girls help take inventory, a job that's lots of work.

The club tries to make several field trips a year to large libraries in New York to gain wider knowledge of library procedure. Every year a library club picnic ends our work with fun for all.

Commercial Club

HUNTINGTON is sure to turn out really good secretaries with this club at work. Headed by Marie Bauz as president, Joan Bjoro as vice-president, and Rose Churico as secretary, the Commercial Club meets every other Tuesday with Miss Hale, its sponsor.

Visits to Mrs. Skinner's Secretarial School, to the telephone company, and to the Long Islander were on their list of activities, as well as a planned trip to a New York office.

H. H. S. Town Meeting

IT is Monday afternoon. The air is tense with heated discussion. All members are airing their political views. Miss Taylor's Forum is again in session.

The Constitution of the United States guarantees the right of every citizen to express his opinion. Forum takes active advantage of this privilege with debates on current, national, and international problems.

The Mindszenty Trial, the election results and President Truman's New Deal Speech have made '48-'49 a lively year for Forum.

Good Luck

Music In the Air

IF one were to walk through the halls of Huntington High, he would probably hear the strains of snappy band music, or the rhythmic music of orchestra, coming from the auditorium. The latter, under Mr. Doty's direction, created just the right atmosphere between the acts of the Masque play, as well as participating in the spring concert. Perhaps one would also hear the chorus putting the finishing touch to "Light" for one of its public appearances. These stimulating groups offer unlimited possibilities for those having musical talent.

The chorus is gaining an excellent reputation as evidenced by the demand for Mr. Doty's "warblers" to perform at various functions. Among some of these successful events of the year were singing at the Huntington Theatre during the Christmas holidays, performing at the District Teachers' Convention at Toaz Junior High in April, and appearing at the Central Presbyterian Church in the same month. The American Legion Pageant and the spring concert were other choral highlights of the season. But whatever the occasion, we can be sure of fine work from the chorus.

The band, with Mr. Kern as leader, has had an active year. Besides playing at football games and at our annual concert, they contributed their talents in assemblies and at commencement. Even Marco, on being formally introduced to H. H. S. in assembly, commented on how lucky we were to have such a "superior" band.

All in all, we should be very proud of our music department and its achievements.

ORCHESTRA

Best of luck always to Norma Jean!

Art Club

"WHAT is the function of this club?" you ask. Why, it is merely one of the busiest organizations in the school! Among its many projects are decorations for Christmas and June Proms, making Christmas cards for the students and faculty, and making posters for the football games, basketball games and the Service League. Besides this, there are the annual exhibit and the trip to a prominent art center. Oh, yes, the most important undertaking is the set decorating for the annual Masque production. These, plus any extra work that arises, keep Mr. Link and the members of the Art Club constantly on their toes.

This organization is valuable not only to the school as a whole but also to the members who gain from it such profitable experience.

Arista

SCHOLARSHIP, Sportsmanship, and Service are the characteristics of an Arista member. Serving on hall duty, selling candy at games, and collecting food for Thanksgiving baskets are only a few of the ways in which the girls demonstrate these requirements. And who can forget the unusual Swedish and Dutch assembly programs sponsored by Arista?

A memorable event of the school year is the informal initiation. The weird apparitions seen bowing through the halls and rhumba-ing through the cafeteria are in reality Arista pledges being taught servitude by their superiors. However, any Arista member will assure you that it was well worth the trouble when she earns the right to wear her little blue and white badge of honor.

Best of Wishes

Masque

THE same real "trouper" spirit gleamed bright as gold this year as the Masque presented their grand offering of "Junior Miss." The Oscar winners were Pat McCutcheon, Jane Corey, Nan Walsh, Bob Martin, Marilyn Schnitzer, Ingrid Clark, Anders Kaufman, Jim Bowden, and Donald Abramoske. Genial hilarity prevailed at the ridiculous mix-ups between Lois and her various beaux which somehow always miraculously straightened themselves out.

This year instead of seeing a drama, the Masquers let down their hair a wee bit and saw "Where's Charley?" They didn't mind admitting, however, that they had a most enjoyable time!

This year's officers were: Virginia Viste, President; Elaine Taylor, Vice-President; Nan Walsh, Secretary, and Lorinda Woodlief, Representative at Large.

All in all, a rich vein of talent was discovered, thereby making '49 a year to remember!

PEP CLUB

Pep Club

MR. MARLOWE'S Pep Club, formerly the Society for improvement of School Spirit in H. H. S., is the club for energetic and vigorous students.

The aim of the Club is to promote more school spirit in H. H. S. This is accomplished by assisting the Cheerleaders with cheer sheets, signing students for buses to the games, supporting all school projects, and sponsoring assemblies.

The members' zestful manner encourages an active interest in our school.

Reporters

THIS able corps of news gatherers, under Miss Wyeth's supervision, keeps our local newspapers informed about interesting high school activities.

Is there an unusual assembly? Has some outstanding student won an award? Has one of our clubs taken a worthwhile field trip? It is weekly questions like these that the reporters must answer in good journalistic style.

Here's a Song

Here's a song to every Huntington fellow
Who loyally fought for the blue and white:
To the man who loved his Alma Mater
And willingly served her with all his might.
Doing his duty was his greatest pleasure indeed,
Keeping his pride down in victory,
Playing the game with all the strength at his power,
Old Huntington High School, to honor thee!

Best of Luck
